PREFACE

In January 1936, the Historical Records Survey, a nation-wide project of the Works Progress Administration, now the Work Projects Administration, was organized nationally. Dr. Luther H. Evans was appointed National Director of the Survey. In March 1936, the Survey began to function in Virginia as part of the Federal Writers' Project, of which Dr. H. J. Eckenrode was State Director, and Dr. Lester J. Cappon of the University of Virginia part-time Technical Assistant. In November 1936, when the Historical Records Survey became independent of the Federal Writers' Project, Dr. Cappon was appointed part-time State Director. At the same time Miss Elizabeth B. Parker, a former supervisor of the Survey, was appointed Assistant State Director. When Dr. Cappon resigned in June 1937, Miss Parker succeeded him as State Director. On September 5, 1939, the Historical Records Survey of Virginia became a State-wide non-Federal project, with Miss Parker as State Supervisor.

Likewise in January 1936 the Survey of Federal Archives, a nation-wide project of the Works Progress Administration, now the Work Projects Administration, was organized under the national directorship of Dr. Philip M. Hamer, an official of the National Archives, Washington, D. C. In February 1936, work was started in Virginia with Mr. T. C. Durham as Regional Director. In September 1936, Dr. Kathleen Bruce was appointed Regional Director to succeed Mr. Durham. On August 1, 1937, the Survey of Federal Archives of Virginia became a State-wide non-Federal project, with Dr. Bruce as State Director.

On January 1, 1940, the two projects, the Survey of Federal Archives and the Historical Records Survey of Virginia, were consolidated by the Work Projects Administration to constitute a new Historical Records Survey project. Dr. Bruce was appointed State Supervisor, and Miss Parker, Assistant State Supervisor. Miss Parker resigned from the Historical Records Survey on April 29, 1940.

By authority of the Presidential Letter, E-236, October 18, 1940, the Historical Records Survey is authorized to "conduct a survey and prepare for duplication inventories of all official records of the counties and of the Federal Government (except the Post Office) within the State; conduct a survey and prepare for duplication inventories of the records of the churches of all denominations within the State; and copy the imprints of all materials, printed before 1877 within the present boundaries of the United States, which are in the custody of all public, semi-public, and notable private libraries within the State." The ultimate objective is to make contributions of public value.

In conformity with the authorization, the Historical Records Survey of Virginia has in progress for publication inventories of the archives of Virginia counties and churches, and of all Federal agencies within the State except the Post Office. It also has under way a survey of American imprints prior to 1877. Under the direction of the Federal Government, the inventories are deposited with the appropriate agency.

The INDEX TO MARRIAGE NOTICES IN THE RELIGIOUS HERALD, RICHMOND, VIRGINIA, 1828-1938, originated as Supplement No. 2 to a volume planned by Miss Parker on the manuscripts and the printed materials of the Virginia Baptist Historical Society. Supplement No. 1, the INDEX TO OBITUARY NOTICES IN THE RELIGIOUS HERALD, RICHMOND, VIRGINIA, 1828-1938, originated in the same manner, and was completed in December 1940. Indexes such as these are not ordinarily undertaken by the Historical Records Survey Projects. The work was authorized in order to make available to the public the voluminous record of marriages and deaths that lies buried in the four almost complete files of the RELIGIOUS

HERALD, 1828-1938, in the custody of the Virginia Baptist Historical Society at Richmond.

During the colonial period an official register of marriages, births, and deaths was kept in every Virginia parish, and copies of each registration were returned to the county clerk by the parish vestry and the head of the family. The official registrations of births and deaths ceased with the separation of Church and State in Virginia not long after the establishment of the Commonwealth, and were not resumed until after the middle of the nineteenth century. The official registration of marriages, however, never lapsed. This was because the Commonwealth made provision for maintaining the same sort of paper record which had been required under the colonial government, apart from the official register of marriages kept by the parish vestry. According to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics at Richmond, hundreds of these scraps of papers which testify to marriages celebrated in Virginia are still extant, but it has not been determined whether they are the licenses that were required or a marriage bond, or a combined license and marriage bond.

Under the Code of 1849, the clerk of the county court and the clerk of the corporation court were each required to register in a book to be kept for that purpose every marriage license which they issued. This book is known as the register of marriages. By an act of April 11, 1853, which became effective July 1, 1853, the clerk of the county court and the clerk of the corporation court were each required to "transmit to the auditor of public accounts a copy of his register of marriages during the preceding year, and on or before the first day of March in each year." In 1853, also, the General Assembly passed an act to take effect January 1, 1854, which ordered every minister to record every marriage solemnized by him and to return the certificate to the clerk of the county court or of the corporation court of the city in which the marriage was solemnized. At the same time, the clerk of the county court and the clerk of the corporation court were each required to record in a separate volume a note of the licenses which they issued, and to report to the commonwealth's attorney for prosecution any minister who failed to return the licenses. Finally in 1919 the marriage certificates and licenses were combined. Since then the note of licenses issued has been recorded in the marriage register, as is also the detailed information that is given in the combined marriage certificates and licenses. This information constitutes the permanent record of marriages.

Under the act effective July 1, 1853, which ordered the clerk of the county court and the clerk of the corporation court to send annually to the auditor of public accounts a copy of the register of marriages, the first concentration of marriage records was brought about in Virginia. An act of 1918, approved March 9, 1918, required the auditor of public accounts to turn over to the newly created State Bureau of Vital Statistics all copies of the register of marriages which had been filed with him. Thereafter the clerk of the county and the clerk of the corporation court were required to send the copies of the register of marriages direct to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics on or before March first in each year. An act of 1938, approved March 10, 1938, required that a duplicate of each combined license and certificate instead of a copy of each register of marriages be sent to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics. In this bureau are now concentrated the records of marriages celebrated in Virginia since June 30, 1853, although on account of inadequate storage, theft, fire, and other calamities which occurred before the State Bureau of Vital Statistics was created, a number of these official records of marriages are missing. There is now being constructed under the sponsorship of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics an index to the marriage records dating from 1870 which are in its custody. In due course the index will probably also be extended back to 1853. The Historical Records Survey has no part in this index, which is not being constructed for publication but for use in the office of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics.

The INDEX TO MARRIAGE NOTICES IN THE RELIGIOUS HERALD ... points directly to marriage records of some 20,000 persons, the great majority of whom were either members of or connected with the Baptist Churches in Virginia. It makes amends in part for the lack of concentration of official records of marriages in Virginia between 1827 and 1853. It may also point to the only records obtainable for any marriages celebrated in 1828-1852 in those eastern counties whose records were removed to the courthouse at Richmond during the War for Southern Independence and destroyed when the courthouse was burned in the evacuation fire. And it is possible that it may open the way to substitute records for some of those early official marriage records which are missing in the files dating from 1853 which are in the custody of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics.

When Miss Elizabeth Coalter joined the staff of the Historical Records Survey in April 1939 as supervisor of the Survey of Church Archives, the field work on the INDEX TO MARRIAGE NOTICES ... had been started. The greater part of the work was checked, edited, and compiled under Miss Coalter's supervision in 1941. Since Miss Coalter left the project on June 28, 1941, Volumes I and II have been completed under the supervision of Mrs. Neva Thompson.

As in the INDEX TO OBITUARY NOTICES ... published in December 1940, some departures have been made from the original procedure first established for this index. For instance, page numbers have been deleted from the references. This has been done inasmuch as all issues of the RELIGIOUS HERALD do not have numbered pages, and confusion resulted when it was attempted to number them consecutively. In some years the issues were paged consecutively through the year; in other years each issue was paged independently of all other issues. The printed notice sometimes but not invariably gives the name of the place where the marriage was celebrated and also the domicile before marriage of the husband and that of the wife. The index does not include place names unless a name is so incorporated in a notice that it can not well be omitted. A case in point is the notice of the marriage of SALE, E. B. (Miss), formerly of the Baptist Mission, and Rev. G. W. Marshall, of American Presbyterian Mission, married in Canton, China, by Rev. H. V. Noyes, D.D., assisted by Rev. G. W. Greene, Aug. 24, 1899, recorded on page 13, column 2. The symbol * is used to point out anything in the entry so unusual that it might appear to be an error of the copyist, the typist, or the editor. No attempt has been made to correct any name, spelling, or statement. Names, dates, and statements are reproduced exactly as they are printed in the RELIGIOUS HERALD. In connection with this it should be noted that the earlier use of ecclesiastical titles by the Baptists within their denomination differed in some respects from their use of titles today; according to Dr. Garnett Ryland who is in charge of the manuscript and printed collections of the Virginia Baptist Historical Society, Richmond, Virginia, "as used by the Baptists of an earlier day Elder is the same as Minister or Reverend,

Preface

Bishop the same as Pastor." For clarity a double entry is given in the index for every marriage notice, one under the name of the husband, the other under the maiden name of the wife. Since there are approximately 10,000 notices and announcements requiring some 20,000 separate entries, it was found to be absolutely necessary to publish the index in two volumes. Volume I of THE GUIDE TO THE MANUSCRIPT COLLECTIONS OF THE VIRGINIA BAPTIST HISTORICAL SOCIETY, SUPPLEMENT NO. 2, INDEX TO MARRIAGE NOTICES IN THE RELIGIOUS HERALD, RICHMOND, VIRGINIA, 1828-1938, started with A and ran through L. The present volume completes the alphabetical list. Also as an appendix for Volume II there have been included all the "announcements of approaching marriages" which were printed in the RELIGIOUS HERALD, RICHMOND, VIRGINIA, 1828-1938.
